SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

Anson joined the CUSP team after completing his study of landscape architecture at QUT in 2021. He was nominated for the Street + Garden Prize in the QUT graduate student award. Throughout his studies, he developed his passion for the field of landscape urbanism, with an interest in working in the discipline of urban design and master planning.

Anson has about 4 years 'experience working as a landscape architect which developed his professional knowledge to be involved in a range of civic open space and high-end residential projects from the concept to the construction stage with a high level of detail. Anson has also gained experiences to coordinate with BIM model and concept modeling through working with Cusp, which demonstrated his skills to involve in epic master planning projects with complexity.
